Solomon Built the Temple

1 KINGS 6; 8

A wise king named Solomon loved God very much. God told Solomon to build a special place called a temple (church) where people could worship Him. It would be a place to sing, pray, and say thank you to God. Solomon obeyed God. It took thousands of workers seven years to build the temple.

The temple was very large and had an outside area called a portico, which was like a porch. The portico and the walls and floors of the building were made of stone. The walls were covered with beautifully carved wood engravings. The inside of the temple was covered in gold.

When the temple was finished, the people were glad to have a special place to worship God. All the people gathered together. King Solomon prayed and thanked God. The people stayed and worshiped God for 14 days. On the 15th day, Solomon sent the people home, and the people were happy to have a place to worship God.
